In the event that classes are moved online, the participation grade will reflect, amongst other things, timely submission of online tasks and assignments as well participation in online group discussions on Canvas. All Writing Assignments (if online) MUST be submitted via Canvas.

Teaching Material

There is no set text book requirement for this module. Students will be provided with handouts of key materials. Students are required to bring and use a notebook as well as a pen.

A good English-English dictionary is recommended.

Notes:

Assignments

Students will be assigned grammar, vocabulary, reading and other homework during the learning module. These are unassessed, but support the language and skills tested in the final exam.

Students will complete writing assignments both in class, and individually between classes. These are assessed.

Students may participate in communicative simulations and role plays in class. These may be assessed.

All assignments must be a student's own work. Any assignments that are plagiarised or otherwise copied from other students or other sources will be given a mark of zero.

Classroom Rules

- All students are expected to be in the classroom at the start of each lesson.
- Notebooks and pens/pencils are required in all lessons.
- Mobile phones must be “off” during lessons, unless their use is expressly authorised.
- Students are responsible for understanding what is covered in this and other information about the learning module, and should ask for clarification from the teacher if they are not clear.
